

The Carson Daily Appeal

CARSON CITY:

Tuesday, September 2, 1873.

THE COLUMBUS WAGON ROAD is a subject which comes up, with an almost painful regularity, to meet and claim the attention of the reluctantly returning editor of localisms. It would have been a not altogether inadequate excuse if the desertion of this rather long drawn and monotonous subject had been our reason for going off and staying away. We had hoped, for many excellent reasons, that that projected channel of mule-team navigation would be all finished, christened, house-warmed, inaugurated and set in full and remunerative operation ere this; but Mr. Fox informed us on Sunday that a listless lot of lounging gentlemen who were then gathered about the place where his winter stove is located, were the Trustees, in the desperate throes of a special meeting—a meeting to take into consideration the affairs of the unfinished road. This is all we care to say about the matter here, except to note that the resignation of Mr. George Gillson as a Trustee was received and accepted, and that Mr. B. H. Meder was chosen to fill the vacancy. There will be a meeting to-night; and in our report of the proceedings then had we shall probably make the statements concerning the affairs of the company which we deem it best, in this issue to be silent about.

PATRICK SOMEBODY and a man named Dart got into a wrangle yesterday near the site of the building recently burned—across the railway and between the track and the race course—and Mister Pat being troublesome and particularly given to gab and back-talk, got a knock on the head by the said Dart, who is a mechanic of some sort—carpenter we believe—and thereupon Pat went to Judge Witherell and had his castigator arrested. It was a mallet in the hands of the assailing Dart which did the business. Along about half-past five or six o'clock in the afternoon came Dart with the incorrigible Pat in his custody, and he held him, hard, by the wrists, until officer Newhouse came along and put him in the lock-up. He will be arraigned on a charge of drunk and disorderly, and Dart will be sentenced for his mallet mauling in Mr. Magistrate Witherell's Court to-day. It's all along of a wrangle over the owning of some land.

THE BOARD of County Commissioners met yesterday and transacted some business, the items and nature of which will have to go over till to-morrow, for the hour was advanced when their Honors got through their work, and we and Mr. Clerk Edwards know that the interest therein will keep sweet for four and twenty hours. When the Board adjourned it was understood that it could be called together by the Chairman, Capt. Meder. They will meet as a Town Board on Monday next. We shall then, if we don't forget to do it, press upon them the arguments for our long-wished and earnestly prayed for anti cow ordinance. We thus give fair notice of our intended public petition in order that there may be no complaint or unfairness from the under side.

SOME hot words between an outspoken citizen and an ex officio town officer got together quite an interested little crowd of side-walk inspectors yesterday. It was all about a dog that hadn't been lawfully tagged and some big boxes that cumber the highway. It is not to be expected that a town can be regulated in a minute, nor, on the other hand, that an old talker will suppress a chance to shoot his mouth off. Some of the healing oil of compromise and explanation was finally poured upon this sea of talk and the eruption of good nature was healed over. If nothing worse than this happens to mark the course of our new town enterprise the way to usefulness and glory will be smooth indeed.

Hair Dressing by means of steam fixtures, or machinery, is one of the novel improvements introduced here by Mr. Jacob Muller. It will raise the hair and make it "get up and dust" in a manner truly surprising. It answers very well for, and is a sort of dry process of, shampooing. Muller has recently been to the Bay and purchased the complete stock of ladies hair ever brought here. As to shade, price and quality, he can suit the most delicate, and ladies can have their hair dressed in artistic style. For neatness and comfort this hair dressing and bathing saloon is unsurpassed for either ladies or gentlemen.

EXCELLENT LUCK.—King and Miles Wing made a trip from Carson to Walker River, Saturday morning, returning on the day following with Tommy Edwards who acted as bottle holder to them, and thirty-one fine sage hens. Several of the old males looked nearly as big as half grown turkeys.

WILLIS has just received from New York and Philadelphia a new stock of toilet articles. Perfumery the most delicate, put up in the most attractive style. Other articles, useful and ornamental, which need only be seen to commend them as the best produced.

THE Chronicle of last evening says that during the thunder storm of Sunday a cloud-burst or water spout came upon the Gieger grade and made havoc there and down the canyon.

THERE are, even yet, moistened places on the road side and in shaded parts of yards and gardens that indicate the rare abundance of rain which fell during the twenty-four hours ending with daylight of Monday morning, a grateful sprinkle on Saturday night when we were all asleep, and a regular old spanking shower on Sunday night cleaned up the foliage and grass to a condition of spring verdure and freshness that one seldom sees here at this period of the year. Some patches of grass in the long scorched plaza actually look green again. Possibly those unseasonable rains being something of damage to the ranch people, but they are a delightful blessing to the rest of us.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT, yesterday, that interminable case of Sharon vs. Sweeney et al. was up for argument. This blessed case, like the poor, we have always with us. Billy Wood came down from Virginia to have his say on the subject. Tom Wells is on the other side. Probably these two will justify their surnames and the one furnish the requisite timber and the other the water to keep this piece of legal merchandise stayed and floated up within the memory of all litigants and law-reporters during the present and the succeeding generation. The Court stands adjourned until to-day when this famous case will be further argued and dozed over.

NEW CHURCH BELL.—The Catholic Church Society of Carson has just received, for their church tower, a bell that weighs fifteen hundred pounds. And the necessary fixtures which came with it weigh eight hundred or a thousand pounds. This bell is much the largest ever brought to this place. Eight hundred pounds, we believe, is the weight of the other church bells now here. That upon the Catholic Church in Gold Hill weighs fifteen hundred pounds; the one in Virginia sixteen hundred. The new bell will be put in place next Thursday.

U. S. MINT.—The total amount of gold and silver bullion received at the Carson Mint, yesterday, was 14,816 ounces, 8,636 ounces of which was from mines on the Comstock lode, sent in for melting and assaying. The balance, 6,180 ounces, was from different mining districts in Nevada and California—the greater part coming from Beaton, Cal., to the Mint for coinage.

HORS.—We have often noticed the luxuriant growth in this place of that beautiful-leaved plant, the hop vine, than which for beauty and shade and hardiness combined it has few equals. The hops, too, that the vine produces here, are of the largest and most prolific. As a specimen of the same we would call attention to those at the Magnolia Saloon, raised in the grounds of Mark Gage.

OUR Washoe friends seem to have returned from their annual excursion for the resinous pine-nut and the succulent lizard. When they prosoch out of town, at night-fall, to avoid the anti-aboriginal town ordinance then does their procession assume a motley and interesting appearance and the nimble pony doth have to carry double and even treble, sometimes.

DENTIST AND PHARMACY.—Cheerfully we comply with the request of Dr. C. Billings to direct attention to his professional services, and business in the Corbett block. The doctor is prepared to execute dentistry work with skill and on favorable terms. He also keeps a stock of drugs and medicines and toilet articles, to which he invites attention. Prescriptions carefully prepared.

REV. JAMES WOODS returned, yesterday, from his vacation tour in California. His family remain in San Francisco, but will probably return here in the course of a month. The reverend gentleman commenced work again last evening, by exercising his professional privilege, in making two persons one in the eyes of the law. See marriage notice elsewhere reported in this paper.

NEW CLERKS.—Willis has recently employed Mr. Henry Finger, from San Francisco, as prescription clerk in his drug store. Mr. F. has had seven years experience in that business. We also notice that young Elgoot Winnie, recently returned from school at the East, is under Willis' instruction with the intention of becoming a pharmacist.

CARSON CITY JOCKEY CLUB.—All members of the Carson City Jockey Club are requested to meet at the Magnolia Saloon on Saturday, September 6, at 8 o'clock p. m., to take such action proper for reorganization, for Fall races over the Carson race track.

By order of the President.

R. E. KELLY, Secretary.

SOME as yet unratified donations to the Little Giant were the subject of some information offered us yesterday; but we conclude it best to salt it down and keep it over for future reference. It will come up in the due order of unfinished business.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.—The above named Court held a session yesterday and then adjourned to the first Monday in October. The U. S. District Court will meet on Saturday next at 11 o'clock.

"Occasional" will find his communication in the Appeal to-morrow.

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

The only items worth reporting from dipatches in last evening's papers are that Ben Butler's chances for obtaining the Republican nomination for Governor of Massachusetts are improving, and that gold is 115½; greenbacks 89½, @ 87½.
